The migration is now complete.

When you are certain that the live migrated machines in the target region are now in use, and you no longer need to create additional target machines, please remove the agent from the source server(s) by clicking More...->Disconnect instances from CloudEndure.

This will stop continuous replication and uninstall the CloudEndure agent from the source machine.

Note: Do not confuse Disconnect instances from CloudEndure with Delete target instances.

After cutover, you should only Disconnect instances from CloudEndure. Clicking Delete target instances will delete the target instances from your target cloud location, and therefore should NOT be done after cutover.
